

The many Faces of Andrea Cambio

“Geisha”

Andrea Cambio

Essentially self-taught, Andrea Cambio was born in New York City. Her fascination with science and art was conceived early on in her youth. Both chemistry-set experiments and painting came natural to her. She was taught by her father, a jewelry designer, that there is no correct way to hold a paintbrush. From an early age she began to freely interpret life on a canvas. She has chosen a career in dermatology because it is a natural combination of medicine and the visual arts. By clinically applying her “eye” to patients, she continues to strengthen and sharpen her gift of observation - a key element in the creation of her art. Andrea has had multiple exhibits of her painting in the New York City area. Her work can also be found in private collections across the world. When not painting, she can be found practicing medicine in southwest Florida, as well as spending time with her husband and two daughters.
