Florene's

Impressionistic Photography

Florene is a former interior designer and visual-display specialist whose extensive world travels have influenced and added to her love of art and the way she views her environment. She's an artist of whom peers say, "She paints with her camera." She creates mainly abstract works by using special filters, lenses and camera techniques – 'breaking the rules' to capture what she sees; as different from what might actually be there

Florene currently shares her methods and techniques as a teacher at The Alliance for the Arts and at the Cape Coral Arts Studio. Impressionism has always been Florene's favorite art form. Her newest work is just now emerging. Taking her abstract photography a step further: she has come 'full-circle,' creating works in a style that she calls, "Contemporary Impressionism."

While growing up in California, Florene got her first camera at age 9, and then living less than an hour from Manhattan for over 30 years, her passion was intensified by art discovered in some of the greatest museums & galleries in the world.

Her award winning work appears regularly in shows, exhibits and galleries and has been on the cover of several magazines. Her work is in collections throughout North America, Asia and Europe. Florene's commissioned work resides in public spaces such as the Oasis in Fort Myers Florida and most recently is featured in a commercial that Traveler's Insurance has just put into worldwide distribution.

Artist's Statement: "I yearn to share my life's passion; and invite the viewer to take a moment and stop to study, and see this extraordinary world from my perspective." ~ Florene.
